

THE BARRE DAILY TIMES

SATURDAY, APRIL 30, 1910.

Entered at the post office at Barre as second-class matter.

Published every week-day afternoon. Subscriptions: One year, $3.00; one month, 25 cents; single copy, 1 cent.

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

Shall we crowd der queen ub Pay der-morrow?

Don't it beat the Dutch how Roosevelt takes in Holland?

The Ballinger-Glavis testimony again reminds that there still is such a thing as lying.

Great boom for the sale of hair puffs since they saved a New York girl from being clubbed to death. Oh, rats!

For withholding love or money, it is considered a shooting offense in Burlington nowadays. Heretofore, they have generally got your money without shooting.

Perhaps you can surreptitiously go out back of the barn to-morrow and unwind your line, but you may not drop it in the water for trout until the fifteenth of May; remember!

Young "Charlie" Taft, son of the president, has been hazed at his uncle's private school to the extent of a thorough ducking in a cold stream. Just to show "Charlie" we are living in a democracy, probably.

The threatened destruction of the Blackwell street covered railroad bridge of the Central Vermont railroad, on top of the destruction of another of the antiquated structures farther down the line some time ago, ought to hasten the work of replacing all of them with modern steel and iron bridges.

That the newspaper men pine for the return of Theodore Roosevelt is indicated by the following searching inquiry charted at the recent meeting of the Associated Press in New York:

Has anybody here seen Teddy? T. E. double D—
Has anybody here seen Teddy? Have you seen him, Mr. D—?
Sure, his copy's hot, his taxi is true; He's a news man through and through; Has anybody here seen Teddy? Teddy of the matchless style?
It is readily admitted that news has been dull, very dull indeed, since—well, you know when. But the animals are beginning to roar once more.

A NEWSPAPER'S FAREWELL.

This week's issue of the Groton Times brings the information that after years of struggle to give the residents of the Wells River valley district a newspaper of their own, Manager C. C. Lord has decided that the returns are not commensurate with the task and has sold his newspaper property to the St. Johnsbury Republican. It is further announced that Groton will not be entirely without a newspaper, inasmuch as the purchaser will put out a Groton edition from the St. Johnsbury office, which will be intended as a home paper for the Wells River valley. The consolidation of the two plants will enable the single publisher to put out two publications with much less expense than it takes two separate plants to do the same work; and it is hoped to make the Groton edition as staunch a supporter of the best interests of Groton and vicinity as the independent Times was accustomed to be.

That Manager Lord was a loyal booster for Groton, the subscribers to his paper well know. His fellow-newspaper men know, too, at what sacrifice of time, labor, worry and expense he has been put in order to maintain an enterprising little publication in a somewhat limited field; and they regret that the emoluments were not such as to warrant the further outlay by Manager Lord. They also sincerely subscribe to the statement by the retiring publisher that he has done his best to make the newspaper of some account and to help the interests of that section, and they go further and say that he has made the Groton Times of some account, always pulling for the interests of the section in which it made its stand.

THE MULLEN DECISION.

When it comes to the analysis of the case presented in favor of Ray Mullen's petition for release from the Vermont state prison on the ground that he is now sane, it will be found that there was nothing that Judge Butler could do under the circumstances, except to order the continued confinement of the prisoner. It will be noted by examination of the testimony that there wasn't a particle of expert testimony (that is, of all sorts) in favor of the release of the young man, who was charged with giving a fatal dose of poison to a young man in Barre several years ago, although there was much testimony by others that the present inmate of the state prison does not give evidence of being insane at the present time, and, in fact, the appearance of the young man on the stand bore out the latter's position. But over against this was the opinion of physicians, given as experts on insanity, that Mullen still is of unsound mind and that it would be dangerous to permit him to be at large.

Therefore, the case hinging on his mental state, as indicated by certain tests which are applied by experts, rather than by signs indicated by his actions to the lay mind, the line of demarcation was clearly drawn; and it would scarcely have been right for Judge Butler and his associates to go back of the expert evidence and order the release of a prisoner on the say-so of lay witnesses that the prisoner seemed to be of sound mind. Hence the decision given yesterday afternoon, and the return of Mullen to the state prison at Windsor. However, that his mental disorder is not considered or the advanced type is indicated by his confinement at Windsor, rather than at the state asylum in Waterbury.

WEST BERLIN.

George Chase has commenced his work at Lotus Field; he has the care of the poultry and lawns.

Joseph Henry went to Boston last Monday; his mother and her family will move to Montpelier next week.

Miss Annie Wilcox will finish her work at the lodge on Eyebrow hill soon and go to Montpelier, where she has a position offered her.

The farmers, who have been shipping milk to Boston, will not send after April 30, unless the price is better; some of them will send cream to Northfield and a few to Montpelier.

C. F. Brown, of 150 Main street, Montpelier, and Mrs. Belle Wilcox, also of Montpelier, were very quietly married last Wednesday morning at W. A. Cooper's. Mrs. Wilcox's mother, Mrs. Lucy Styles, was also present.

MONTPELIER.

A. L. Burt Succumbed to Heart Disease. Found Dead in Bed Yesterday.

Almyer L. Burt, a carpenter of this city, was found dead in bed yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, in Winchendon, Mass., where he had been visiting. Death was probably due to heart disease. He had been away from home only a few days, and went to visit two brothers, whom he had not seen for several years, as well as his daughter. He was 52 years of age. He left a widow of Montpelier, his father, J. M. Burt of Troy, two daughters, Mrs. Ned Emerson of Winchendon and Mrs. G. E. Hunt of Bakersfield, and three sons, J. B. Burt of Milwaukee, Wis., Byron A. of this city and Jerry A. of Newport. The funeral will be held here to-morrow, Rev. S. A. Tart, pastor of the Leicester church, officiating.

Harry Hobson, who is well known here and who married Miss Josie Perkins of Berlin, has been promoted to the position of roadmaster on the Union Pacific road, at Gordon, Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Walton quietly celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Thursday. No special observance was held but a number of friends presented them articles of silver appropriate to the occasion.

Cultures of the entire student body of Montpelier summary will be sent to-day to Burlington and the result will probably be received Monday when, if they show no disease, school will open and the quarantine be removed.

Beryl, the eldest daughter of Mrs. Belle Breen of Waterbury, was married Wednesday evening at her home to William A. Lefebvre of this city. The couple were unattended. Miss Breen is a graduate of the Waterbury high school and has taught several terms of school in East Montpelier.

The national convention of the Sons of the American Revolution is being held in Toledo, O., concluding May 3, and William T. Dewey of this city, who is president of the Vermont S. A. R., has gone to attend. There will be patriotic services to-morrow in the churches and features of the convention will be a reception given by the D. A. R. of Toledo and a banquet tendered the delegates by the Toledo chamber of commerce. Mr. Dewey may visit Washington and New York City before his return home.

Hiram B. Wedge of this city is one of the few men in the country who are eligible to membership in the Sons of the American Revolution through descent from a British soldier. Mr. Wedge's grandfather, after serving under the cross of St. George, left that standard and enlisted with the patriots. One regiment of Hessian troops, sent by George the Third of England, was commanded by Colonel Wedge, but he became convinced that he was fighting against the right and enlisted in the American army, where he fought until the close of the war. He then settled in Connecticut, where two sons were born, one who went West and has descendants in Ohio, and the other the grandfather of Hiram Wedge. The latter is a veteran of the Civil war. Although he has all the qualifications necessary, he is not a member of the Sons of the American Revolution.
